

Coaching Workshop for Christian Leaders

Integrate Powerful Coaching Skills Into Your Leadership

- The challenge isn't too little information
- The challenge is too little application
- This is where a coaching approach shines bright!

Perhaps you are looking for ways to maximize your ministry effectiveness... In discipling others... In leading others... In equipping and empowering others.

Coaching skills can help you, not just how you do things - but the results you get.

People who take this workshop see significant advancements in their ministry impact, while seeing their stress and busy-ness go down. Coaching skills will increase your effectiveness in your various ministry and leadership roles.

Daniel Beutler currently serves as part of the L2L team of the Canadian Conference of Mennonite Brethren Churches. His role is to facilitate the life-long learning interests of leaders and pastors in the areas of spiritual renewal, theological enrichment, and the acquisition of leadership skills, particularly in the area of coaching. Daniel is passionate about helping leaders and churches discern their next steps in joining God in what he desires to do in and through them.
